ICP Infinity Awards to Honor Don McCullin, the 1619 Project of the New York Times Magazine, Hannah Reyes Morales, and Nadine Ijewere

36th Annual Infinity Awards Fundraising Gala Takes Place on April 29 in New York City

NEW YORK, NY (MARCH 5, 2020) — The International Center of Photography (ICP), the world's leading museum and school dedicated to photography and visual culture, today announced the 2020 honorees of its annual Infinity Awards, the leading honor for excellence in the field. The 36th annual ICP Infinity Awards will be held on the evening of Wednesday, April 29 at Ziegfeld Ballroom (141 West 54th Street, New York City). Featuring Sade Baderinwa as emcee, the event is ICP's largest fundraiser and benefits its full range of education and exhibition programs.

"At ICP's annual Infinity Awards, we are proud to recognize the incredible work of our honorees and their extraordinary commitment to raising awareness about important issues and telling compelling stories," said Mark Lubell, Executive Director of ICP. "It's an exciting time to celebrate photography at ICP, as we have just opened our new home reuniting our school and museum on the Lower East Side."

2020 Infinity Award Categories and Recipients:

- Lifetime Achievement: Don McCullin
- Online Platform and New Media: The 1619 Project of the *New York Times Magazine
- Documentary Practice and Visual Journalism: Hannah Reyes Morales
- Applied: Nadine Ijewere

The 2020 Infinity Award honorees in the Documentary Practice and Visual Journalism, Online Platforms and New Media, and Applied categories were chosen by a selection committee composed of ICP's new Curator-At-Large, Isolde Brielmaier, curator of the Tyler Mitchell: I Can Make You Feel Good exhibition, now on view at ICP; North America Editor at Reuters Pictures Corinne Perkins; and Director of For Freedoms and 2017 Infinity Award Winner Michelle Woo.

The non-juried Infinity Awards were selected by ICP to acknowledge major achievements in photography, and to honor Cornell Capa, who founded ICP in 1974 to preserve the legacy of "concerned photography"—the creation of socially and politically minded images that have the potential to educate and change the world.

Since 1985, the ICP Infinity Awards have recognized major contributions and emerging talent in the fields of photojournalism, art, fashion photography, and publishing. This year's ceremony follows the opening of ICP's new integrated center at Essex Crossing on the Lower East Side.
